Paragon's Craig Selders Promoted to President of Paragon Relocation

IRVING, Texas – August 27, 2010 – Craig Selders has been promoted to executive vice president of Paragon Global Resources and president of Paragon Relocation, which includes Paragon Relocation Holdings. Selders' responsibilities include managing Paragon's global relocation operations and client relations. In his position, Selders has interfaced with clients and customers all over the United States and throughout the world which has been the basis of his success.

"In his tenure with Paragon, Craig has become an invaluable member of our leadership team. His vision for the company is exceptional and his dedication to the job unquestionable. I believe Craig will take Paragon Relocation to new and exciting places," said Joseph Morabito, president and CEO of Paragon Global Resources.

Selders has 30 years of industry experience and has been with Paragon for six years. Prior to that, he held various senior management positions at several major relocation companies. Selders holds the senior certified relocation professional (SCRIP) and senior global mobility specialist (SGMS) designations, and has earned a Distinguished Service Award as well as the Meritorious Service Award from Worldwide ERC®. He has served on numerous committees and panels for Worldwide ERC® and other industry conferences. He has been published in various publications, such as Mobility and Energy World, and holds a Texas Real Estate Broker's license. Selders has a bachelor's degree in business, with an emphasis in real estate, from the University of Connecticut and an MBA from the University of Chicago.
